22 June 2018

Hub One, subsidiary of the Groupe ADP, acquires Sysdream and becomes a key player in the cybersecurity industry

Hub One, subsidiary of Groupe ADP and information and communication technology service firm acting in a professional environment, announces the acquisition of Sysdream, a French player in cybersecurity. This acquisition is in line with Hub One's strategy which targets a revenue between €200 and €300 million within a period of five to eight years. Through this operation, Hub One finalizes its industrial cybersecurity project based on three pillars: training, consulting/auditing, and managed services.

The merger between Hub One and Sysdream comes from a shared vision to provide services to companies with a level of security, based on a unique and high value-added service offer, and to act on the full service chain of cybersecurity market: technical, organizational and human.

Founded in 2004, Sysdream is a renowned expert in cybersecurity, PASSI¹ certified (a certification delivered by ANSSI (French National Agency of Information System Security)). The company has a strong growth and its revenue stood at €3.9 million in 2017. It offers to major, public and private accounts, in France and abroad, a range of solutions focused on systems auditing, computer security training and cyber-training. Sysdream has launched some major events such as Hack In Paris, dedicated to cybersecurity professionals, and La Nuit du Hack (Hack's Night), the largest annual convention for ethical hacking in France.

The strong and unique expertise of Sysdream will add to historical know-how of Hub One in the perimeter of airport security (network, firewall, LAN) from the airport environment, thus strengthening its cybersecurity activity. Hub One completes the implementation of its third strategic division dedicated to Cybersecurity, while allowing Sysdream to maintain its characteristics, its expertise and staff.

"With Sysdream, we are continuing with the implementation of our cybersecurity industrial project started several months ago thanks to a dedicated team and with the mobilization of Hub One's staffs around the challenge of cybersecurity, says Guillaume de Lavallade, Chief Executive Officer of Hub One. This acquisition gives Hub One all the components to become a global player on the cybersecurity market."

Olivier Franchi, Chairman of Sysdream declares, "This merger is a great opportunity for us to get an industrial supply from Hub One, subsidiary of Groupe ADP. It will allow us to boost the development of our business, while ensuring autonomy and independence vis-à-vis the manufacturers and editors acting on the highly competitive cybersecurity market."

Finally, Edward Arkwright, Chief Executive Director of Groupe ADP and Chairman of Hub One highlights "The acquisition of Sysdream is part of our strong industrial dynamic and strengthens our position and expertise in the field of cybersecurity, where the stakes are crucial both in France and abroad, particularly regarding our airport activities."
