

AÉROPORTS DE PARIS

The world is our guest

8 June 2015

Press Release

Aéroports de Paris a major partner of "Futur en Seine"
*European digital festival

Aéroports de Paris has been involved in open innovation efforts for a number of years, and will now be a partner of the "Futur en Seine" festival for the first time.

With more than 92.7 million passengers served in 2014, Aéroports de Paris is constantly improving customer experience at its airports through increasingly varied and personalised services.

Take for example Aéroports de Paris' new "responsive design" website with an innovative search engine integrated into the homepage and the ability to create your own travel planner, the application "My Airport", information kiosks, experimenting with beacons, digital informational tools for employees on the move, new services such as "Find my transport", "Digital reading area", etc.

These many innovations have been developed by teams from Aéroports de Paris to serve passengers, airlines, and Aéroports de Paris employees.

Today, Aéroports de Paris is stepping up its digital and technological transformation by exploring new innovations such as the smart airport, new mobile technologies, robotics, and the use of drones.

From 11 to 14 June, come find Aéroports de Paris at our booth: Innovations Village, the cour d'honneur at the Conservatoire Nationale des Arts et Métiers (CNAM), 292 rue Saint-Martin, Paris. Free admission.

FUTUR EN SEINE - What is it?

Started in 2009 by Cap Digital, a centre for competitiveness and digital transformation Aéroports de Paris participates in, Futur en Seine presents the latest innovations every year from France and around the world to professionals and the general public. The focal point for Futur en Seine is the Innovation Village, taking place from 11 to 14 June. Futur en Seine also includes more than 150 events throughout the region organised by the festival's partners.
